NYSCA President's Welcome Reception

Join us for the President's Welcome Reception following classes on Friday, from 6pm-7pm for hors d'oeuvres and beverages. Registered participants may enjoy a complimentary beverage from the bar and be entered for a chance to win a door prize of $100 cash, courtesy of the NYSCA!

Please bring a supply of your business card to participate in exhibitor raffles!

Participating exhibitors will be noted on the exhibit hall floor plan.

Fun and Games

Participant Door Prize

Convention participants play to win $100 cash

This game is free for all participants. The only requirement for players is that they pre-register for the convention and be present for the drawing. That's all there is to it!

Exhibit Hall Scavenger Hunt

Convention participants play to win a $100 Amex Gift Card.

This game is also free for all attendees.

Participating exhibitors submit questions, and attendees will receive the answers from the company representative at the convention. These questions are basically information the exhibitor wants each attendee to know about their product or service. For example a fitness company might submit the question: "How long does a workout have to be in order to be effective?"

Submit your completed scavenger hunt at the registration desk. Drawings will take place on Saturday following the afternoon break.

Permanent Impairment: Proper Documentation & Completion of the Updated NYS WCB C4.3 Form

Joseph Merckling DC
Friday, April 8, 2022 | 2pm-4pm
Sponsored by NYSCA District 7 | 2CE|2Cat1

The NYS WCB C4.3 form was once again updated with new documentation requirements in late 2021. This course will enable the participant to understand patient selection and proper documentation to adequately complete the updated C4.3 form and determine permanent impairment according to the NYS guidelines.

Dr. Merckling a graduate of New York Chiropractic College, has been in private practice in Bellport village since 2006. He is active in the New York State Chiropractic Association (NYSCA) as a currently elected State Director and Past President of Suffolk County District 7. He is also a member of the American Chiropractic Association, and Suffolk County Medical Reserve Corps.

Alex C. Dell is the founder of the Law Firm of Alex Dell, and has over twenty-six (26) years of experience in the areas of workers' compensation law and disability benefits law.

Why Informed Consent and Documentation Matter

Thomas J. Neuner, DC, JD
Friday, April 8, 2022 | 4pm-6pm
Sponsored by OUM Chiropractor | 2CE|2Cat1

Informed consent is more than a signature on a form. It is a process of communication, shared decision-making, mutual expectation setting, and respect for a person's autonomy. Without it, patients are at risk for health consequences they do not understand, and providers are at risk for liability claims. This program discusses the components of informed consent, provides strategies to engage patients in decision-making, outlines how to document the process, and reviews how to manage informed refusal. The program also includes an examination of actual liability cases where informed consent was not obtained.

Dr. Neuner is the owner of Michigan Spine and Joint Center, a multidisciplinary healthcare center. For more than 30 years, he has provided an emphasis on wellness and self-help techniques embracing the biopsychosocial model of care. Dr. Neuner has helped establish international corporations with partners in South Africa to enable and facilitate care services abroad.

Rock and Roll: Aging and Disability in Healthcare

Karen Konarski-Hart DC MSDPEM FACO FICC
Saturday, April 9, 2022 | 8am-10am
Sponsored by NCMIC | 2CE

Patients with advancing age or disability have been severely impacted by the rapid changes taking place in the healthcare arena, particularly in the aftermath of COVID-19. Education and training resources available to chiropractors to improve their understanding of and sensitivity towards their patients with disabilities or advancing age are sorely lacking. This lecture will bring chiropractors heightened awareness of the many challenges faced by their patients with advancing age or disability and give them tips to learn how to address them with their patients in their practices. It will also touch on doctors themselves who experience these factors.

Situation: STRESS

Karen Konarski-Hart DC MSDPEM FACO FICC
Saturday, April 9, 2022 | 10am-12pm
Sponsored by NCMIC | 2CE

This program will address types of stress, its physiological and psychological effects and how to evaluate patients whose health may be affected by stress and its physical manifestations while recognizing what is within scope and when to refer. It will explore how those effects influence the chiropractors treatment plan and outcomes. It will also aid the participants in recognizing the stress response in themselves and their colleagues. Doctors of Chiropractic will learn a spectrum of possible interventions. Finally, participants will be presented with state specific options for community service to victims of disasters & rescuers.

Dr Konarski-Hart is a practicing DC in Little Rock, Arkansas. She is past president of the Arkansas Chiropractic the chiropractic profession. He is CEO of the ChiroLaw law firm and Conway Consulting Group. His law practice consists primarily of health law and government relations with a strong focus on Medicare. He is also a partner in ChiroArmor LLC a chiropractic compliance company. Dr. Conway has worked with Dr. Michael Jacklitch, CMS and all of the Medicare Contractors to develop a universal national agreement for chiropractic documentation procedures that specifically outlines the required documentation necessary to demonstrate medical necessity of chiropractic care. He has also provided instruction to MAC claims reviewers to fully understand what documentation should be in the chiropractic records submitted for review of services.

Rehabilitation of the Chronic (and not yet chronic) Spine Patient

David B. Kartzman, DC
Saturday, April 9, 2022 | 2:30pm-3:30pm
Sponsored by NYSCA District 16 | 1CE

Spine pain, regardless of the presence of a trauma, is a significant health cost driver while being fraught with poor outcomes. It is understood that these patients require a care approach which differs from the typical anatomical/physiological approach to addressing injury and pain. The course attendee will:

- Understand the tendencies to becoming chronic.
- Learn to alleviate the challenges of the management of the chronic patient.
- Build a thought process for developing a rehabilitation program for these patients.

David Kartzman, DC, a 1989 graduate of New York Chiropractic College, is an active member of the NYSCA, and is also a member of the NASS (North American Spine Society: Section of Rehabilitation, Interventional and Medical Spine www.spine.org). He has brought an innovative aspect to his practice in Corning, NY by developing newer techniques (Stretch Receptor Based Care) and exercise programs which are specific to each patient (Flexibility, Ergonomics and Motion). He has developed a continuing education course based on these techniques and exercises. Teaching is a passion. Dr. Kartzman has had the pleasure and opportunity to provide education both to chiropractic and medical doctors of multiple specialties. He has lectured on topics which include evaluation and treatment of lower back pain as well as care collaboration between multiple spine specialties.

The Kinetic Chain from the Ground Up

Jennifer Illes DC
Saturday, April 9, 2022 | 3:30pm-5:30pm
Sponsored by Foot Levelers | 2CE

In this course with Dr. Illes you will learn to skillfully perform and define basic (i) physical, (ii) neurological and (iii) orthopedic exams related to the extremities, and perform a gait and postural evaluation, with a special focus starting from the feet up the kinetic chain. You will also learn how to implement and use a 3D foot scanner in order to determine the appropriate clinical reasoning for use of custom orthotics. We will wrap up by learning to perform and define evaluation procedures for the soft tissue and joints in the extremities as well as perform and define selected soft tissue and joint manipulative procedures for the extremities.

Jennifer Illes-DC is a dynamic communicator who brings over 18 years of combined clinical and academic experience. She is a graduate of New York Chiropractic College and her experience includes treating professional athletes with sports related injuries. Dr. Illes currently serves as an associate professor at Keiser University's College of Chiropractic Medicine in West Palm Beach, FL. She has been teaching clinical technique, assessment, rehabilitation, and management classes. She holds roles as the current FACA president, and ACA Rehab Council faculty adviser.

Dance Biomechanics and Their Role in Dance Related Injuries

James Walters, DC
Saturday, April 9, 2022 | 5:30pm-6:30pm
Sponsored by NYSCA District 15 | 1CE

The focus of this presentation will be to acknowledge the wide and diverse world that is dance through the lens of biomechanics as well as teach attendees how these biomechanics play a role in the more common dance related injuries. It will address the need for providers to develop strong working partnerships with their dancer patients as well as identify the importance of moving away from the "eliminating pathology" mindset that we have as providers towards a "sustainable pathology" mindset.

Dr. James Walters is a 2019 graduate of New York Chiropractic College. Dr. Walters has been an active member in both the ACA as well as the NYSCA since beginning his Chiropractic education. He currently serves as a member of the Leadership Committee for the NextGen ACA. He also serves the NYSCA as the District 15 President and ACA Affiliate Director. Prior to entering chiropractic college, Dr. Walters had a career as a professional dancer. Dr. Walters' passion is to combine his former career as an artist with his career as a healthcare provider in order to create greater understanding and care for artists. Dr. Walters is eager to continue his mission by helping other providers to better understand dancers and their unique healthcare needs.

Applicable Excerpts from the Constitution and Bylaws of the New York State Chiropractic Association

ARTICLE III - Membership

The NYSCA shall be a membership organization and shall have members who shall be chiropractors duly licensed by the state of New York or students currently matriculated in a chiropractic degree granting educational program accredited by the Council on Chiropractic Education (CCE) and/or the New York State Education Department. The NYSCA does not discriminate in the nomination or selection of a member based upon the member's race, faith, religion, ethnicity, gender, age, or sexual, biological orientation or gender identity.

All members of the NYSCA must be of good moral character in compliance and comportment with the New York State Regents Rules, Parts 28 - Determination of Good Moral Character in the Professions and Part 29 - Unprofessional Conduct (§§ 29.1 - General provisions; 29.2 - General provisions for health professions) and the NYSCA Code of Professional Ethics.

A. Classifications of Membership
